

Family History Research:

1. Choose to zero in on your mom or dad's family history.
2. When did your ancestors first come to Canada or have they always lived here?
3. If your family is First Nation, Inuit or Métis and they have always lived in Canada, what Indigenous group are they affiliated with?
4. If your ancestors emigrated here, what country and city in the world did they come from?
5. Plot where your family is from and where they emigrated or moved to in Canada on a map of the world.
6. Now plot where you live now on the map and draw a line connecting all of the different locations.
