THE RULES FOR VANCOUVER.

15.07.15

1. As a member you will know what to do.
2. Every visitor is permitted to take one 90 second time-out, which must be taken during daylight hours.
3. Keep everything at arms length.
4. When walking either ~~on~~ public or private land you must always, always, move and dress like a monk.
5. Name everything clearly.
6. The number of throws, hits or goes should be limited to five.
7. DO NOT cause damage to Vancouver, accidental or not.
8. Cough.

Does Vancouver need a set of rules?

A new art installation inspired by the Vancouver Biennale includes 17 different rules for Vancouver will be displayed at 10 different bus stop shelters until May.

The “rules” were created by British artist Peter Liversidge, who lived in Vancouver during his International Artist Residency in 2014 and came up with 60 proposals for artworks after exploring the city.

The idea behind the unconventional “17 Rules for Vancouver” is text-based and conceptual in nature, challenging and playing with the definitions of art, while also inviting Vancouverites to respond.

9. Walk along the shore returning all the flotsam & jetsam to the sea.
10. Please use common sense to avoid collisions, encounters, infractions and each other.
11. Please walk slowly, do not run or show turns of speed. Vancouver can ill-afford further lawsuits, injury claims, or hospital visits resulting from careless foot placement.
12. COVER UP.
13. Never leave the built environment without a bell, a front & back light is advisable after dusk.
14. No sharp objects.

15. Remember to be considerate, don't interrupt, be honest and don't conceal the truth.
16. No rocking, no jumping, no lollygagging, no horse-play.
17. Remember to keep looking.

Here are some of what people are saying should be the rules for Vancouver:

Always do a full scan before crossing any street

Always be polite.

Umbrella etiquette dictates that you walk to the furthest edge of the sidewalk and away from the buildings.

There is a $2 fine for anyone who forgets the beauty of the city they live in.

Ban uppity British people who think they are artists and know what's best for us.

Large fines for bad public art as decided by residents.

Find something beautiful.

Close your umbrella when walking under cover.

You pack it in - You pack it out - remember parents can't follow and clean up after you forever.

Hire local artists!
